MALICIOUS SLANDER.

The innate and malicious dishonesty of the editor of the Commercial was never more shamelessly exhibited than in a paragraph last evening assailing Hon. Newell Blake, and asserting that he was defeated for re-election as Assessor in punishment for having unjustly discriminated in assessing the tax upon the "Commercial newspaper establishment" and "THE WHIG AND COURIER newspaper establishment." The writer fully knew that the statement was utterly dishonest, the tax in our case being assessed solely upon the property in our "newspaper establishment," our job printing department having been entirely disposed of several years ago, while the tax upon his printing property, which he deceitfully complains should not have been larger than ours, was assessed not only upon his "newspaper establishment," but also upon the property and material of a complete job printing office, which he advertises as thoroughly equipped to execute all kinds of work "from the largest poster to the smallest label." Had he added to our own the tax assessed upon the job printing establishment now owned by Messrs. Burr & Robinson, the comparison would not have served his malicious purpose, and he deliberately states what he knows to be untrue. The attack upon Mr. Blake is especially gratuitous, as even if we would seek to be favored, as we have not and do not in any way whatever, that gentleman has never been under the slightest obligation to us, nor has there ever been the least shadow of reason for us to expect partiality at his hands. The statement that Hon. Silas C. Hatch "protested against the outrageous and most unequal assessment" is dishonoring to Mr. Hatch in making him sponsor for a scandalous arraignment of his colleague's integrity, and we denounce it as absolutely and unmitigatedly false, on the authority of Mr. Hatch's repeated statements to us on the subject.

As to the exultant boast that one of the principal objects of the election of the present City Government has been accomplished in permitting the Commercial's spite to control the choice of Assessors for this community, we do not care to comment. Our neighbor certainly is not over modest in assuming his dictatorship, nor extravagantly cautious in publishing his interpretation of "reform." If the City Government can stand his style of patronage, we think Mr. Blake can well afford to welcome his abuse.

THE TABLES TURNED

A special despatch from Aroostook brings the response of the people of Lamoine to the pettifogging attempt of the Democratic rulers to disfranchise a leading and honored citizen of that place. The Democratic Selectmen having again obeyed the partisan instructions to deny Senator Burleigh's right to vote, the people in town-meeting assembled, signally rebuked the outrage by electing a full Republican board by a heavy majority, where the Democrats have had control for years. Lamoine thus emphatically repudiates the miserable crusade against Senator Burleigh.

NEARSIGHTEDNESS. At a recent meeting of the Social Science Club of Hartford a valuable paper was read on "Nearsightedness in Schools." The author, Dr. Stevens, said that this disease was an incurable one, and is rapidly increasing in all civilized countries. All that can be done is in the way of prevention and arrest of its progress. From all all the statistics thus far collected in this country and Europe it is ascertained that nearsightedness exists in school children under six in a very small degree, viz.: from one to four per cent. In older students who have passed through the primary and grammar schools, there is a gradual increase, which is more rapid from eight to sixteen than at any other period. At the age of twenty the per cent. increases to from fifty to sixty per cent., and in one university, sixty-three per cent are nearsighted. It is established that healthy eyes can be affected by over-study or bad habits of position, etc., and that 20 per cent. of the subjects of nearsightedness are ignorant of its approach. Dr. Stevens, in view of these facts, thinks it would be well in most cases to relax the pressure of school children between the ages of 9 and 16, even to the extent of keeping them in school but half the time. School-rooms should be much lighter than they generally are, with walls of light drab color, and folding blackboard, so as to increase the light when not in use. As teachers generally know nearsighted pupils, they should give them seats near the windows. School gymnastics were also commended.

HORSE MEAT IN PARIS. The craze for hippophagy seems to be onward in France. M. Decroix, a zealous promoter of the vital reform, as he regards it, states that the 1867 2,152 horses, asses and mules were consumed in Paris; whereas in 1877 10,008 horses, 558 asses and 53 mules, furnishing 1,939,490 kilogrammes of meat, exclusive of the heart, liver, tongue, etc., which are also eaten; and there are now 61 horse butcheries." One of these butcheries is to be opened shortly in London, so that John Bull will have the privilege of feasting on palatable and nutritious meat at half the price of beef." M. Decroix is of the opinion that even if Englishmen are too fastidious, there are plenty of foreigners in London to serve as customers for the horse-flesh steaks, bouillon, bouilli and saucisson.

According to the official reports the Russian army of the Danube captured during the war fifteen pashas, 133,000 officers and men, 606 guns of different calibres, 2,600 tents, 130,200 muskets and 24,000 horses. In addition, 200,000 small arms, yatighans and pistols were taken from Turkish irregular troops, and also 13,000 lances and daggers. The Russian army in Asia captured during the war fourteen pashas and 30,200 officers and men, 662 guns, 16,000 tents, 42,000 muskets, 18,000 horses, and immense stores of ammunition and provisions of all kinds.

The National Republican, of Washington, D. C., says if the administration cannot see that the purpose of the Southern Democrats is to seize the reins of government, and subvert it to their bad ends, "the party must step to the front in the hearty participation in the part of the President and his advisers, and if they neglect the opportunity to enlist their best efforts in behalf of the nation's welfare, then the Republican party must proceed with its work as if no administration existed in the government and it was struggling to establish one

AN INQUIRY ABOUT REFORM.

A CITIZEN OF WARD SIX "WANTS TO KNOW, YOU KNOW."

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier

The tax-payers of Ward Six begin to feel as if our City Council ought to have a guardian other than the Aldermen from Ward Three.

Unconsciously the majority of our Reform City Government have allowed themselves to be pocketed by the before-named Alderman, and he is marching off toward the Democratic nominal on for Congress, regardless of the rights of the tax-payers of our Ward, whose champion he pretended to be, and we find ourselves within one week after the new organization, without any representation in the Board of Aldermen and but two representatives in the Common Council.

Now what we most desire to know is, why the above-named Alderman was it such inconsiderate haste to change the ward lines (if they are changed;) why did he wish to disfranchise Alderman Jones and Councilman Collett? or render illegal and void the election of all subordinate officers and all other acts of the City Council?

The wrongs hitherto charged upon the City Council of 1876, he has by no means remedied unless he shall argue that two or more wrongs make a right, for they were adding to or comparing with the monstrous stupidity of the recent ordinance re-establishing the ward line of some seventeen years standing without even a reference to a committee, thereby violating the letter and spirit of section 22 of the charter, which contemplates an equal distribution of voters rather than an equal dividing lines or equal areas of territory, for now the difference in the number of voters in the wards is from 100 to 400, to say nothing of the necessity of a new election in our ward to fill the two vacancies.

But, says the Alderman, "the people demanded it." Well, Mr. Alderman, if the people demanded so gross an act of disrespect to a former City Council, so unwarranted a violation of the letter and spirit of the city charter, and such a want of knowledge of parliamentary usage, to right a wrong we beg of you to demand an equal representation with other wards in the present City Government, which you have so early in the year deprived us of. Do it, we beseech of you! follow that ignus fatuus—Reform—(which so far, seems to mean on how attenuated a thread the officials who serve the city may hang for a year) into the muck-hole of meanness until you incapacitate yourself for the examination of questions affecting the moral and commercial interests of our city, if any such should arise.

Your zeal so far, by the clamor of reform in the reduction of the salaries of officers who were poorly paid before, has saved to each tax-payer in our whole valuation is $3,600, the enormous sum of one cent.

This great and humane act to your constituents may be an ample offset in your mind for the gross wrong done to the tax-payers of Ward six, viz: depriving us of the item of our choice to represent us during the present municipal year.

"Parturient montes et nascetur ridiculus mus."

Wise counsels and well-considered action best become representative men.

Section 23, City Charter, points out how vacancies may be filled. WARD SIX.

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL.

The Iowa Republican State Convention is to be held in Des Moines on Wednesday, June 19.

The Louisville Courier-Journal gives a new Shakespearean reading: Some men are born great, some achieve greatness and some come from Ohio.

"I did not see Mr. Hayes, but I hear he enjoys being President very much. Visitors who call on the President say that he became hard smiles and promises, and never does anything. The President seems to be a work of evangelical Methodism, continually waiting for something to turn up. The general aspect of things about the White House is clean, but flabby."—Noah Brooks in New York Times.

The Senatorial defenders of Secretary Schurz are Matthews, Dawes and Hoar. They are also the unquestioning supporters of the President's unrepublican anti-civil-service reform nominations. They are also the only Republicans who are authorized to dictate Federal appointments. We state these things as facts unquestioned. The reader may put them together in such order as he pleases, making all the "combinations" he pleases, and then guess the solution of the problem. Answers printed at a future time.—Boston Travellers.

Mr. Tilden is credited with the eminently sound observation that he does not see that any good can result from the further agitation of this question of Mr. Hayes's title to the Presidency. This would seem to be tantamount to an announcement that the wire between Gramercy Park and New Orleans has been cut.

Gov. Prescott's telegram to the President on the night of the New Hampshire election, to which that "encouraging" reply was sent, said nothing about the Southern policy. It read thus: "Your re-elected Governor by a majority. The Council, Senate, and House of Representatives are Republican. The story is complete."

The Columbia Flying Artillery has persuaded the Legislature of South Carolina to reimburse it for the money spent in the purchase of guns, munitions, and equipments by representing it to be effective democratic work it did in the Hampton campaign by attending political meetings as a military organization.

The Hon. E. B. Washburne says under no circumstance will he be a candidate for United States Senator from Illinois, as he is resolved never again to seek official position.

The President says he is extremely anxious to make another Southern trip this Summer. Is he going to organize a shooting expedition to search for the missing fruits of the conciliation policy?—Tribune.

The Augusta Journal tells this whale story: "A Maine schooner, while fishing off the Banks of Newfoundland, with 80 or 200 fathoms of cable out and sail skewed, was suddenly found to be under headway. It was soon found that a large whale of the fin-back species had got his tail entangled in the cable and was hauling the craft at the rate of 15 knots an hour; and, growing more and more excited, was keeping his course to the sea. The whale finally tore away by breaking the cable."

From the New York Graphic.

THE MODERN COLLEGE BOY'S LETTER HOME

DEAR MOTHER:: I am not making as much progress as I expected in my studies, because there's a great deal else to attend to here. But we have lively times. I have just returned from the funeral of Billy Cook. He was shot last Tuesday night because he wouldn't allow the Sophs to take off his pantaloons and paint his legs red and green, barber pole fashion. This is the last degree conferred on the Freshmen by the Sophs. I wish you would send me a six-shooter, one hundred cartridges and a double-barrelled shot gun. We ain't going to stand any more nonsense from the Sophs. After prayers this morning our class were all busy making sand bags. We're putting up a barricade on the east end of our building, and intend to mount it with a six pound carronade. The losses in our class have been pretty heavy this week. John Hilton is very low with a bullet in his stomach, and Seward Livingstone is not expected to recover from the stab in the side. Jack Rhinelander is laxed for life by a bullet in the knee, and Sam Astor has lost the sight of one eye from a brickbat. There isn't a whole window left in our college building. But you wait, mother! You just wait a few days and you'll hear something. We're undermining the Soph's quarters. We're working day and night. The tunnel is now 130 yards long. It goes straight over the campus and under old Prexie's building. We've established a communication with his cellar, and I tell you a drop of claret or Burgundy is very nice to have after a fellow's handled a pick and shovel half the night. We shall use dynamite. Keep shady, mother. There won't be a Soph left by this time next week.

Your affectionate son,
VIRGIL KELLEY.

COSTIVENESS

When long continued are grave in the head, dizziness, nausea or sickness at the stomach, heaviness in the abdominal region, congestion of the liver, and hence an impeded circulation of the blood, colds, and especially the

PILES.

The grand promulgator of dyspepsia is debility of the stomach. The torpidity of the liver is apparent from the small quantity of bile discharged from that organ, and also by a dull pain on the right side. Under whichever form

DYSPEPSIA

Appears there is always languor or debility, excessive sleepiness, the pores of the skin are open, the most part furred or covered with a creamy mucous in the morning. To remove with a constipated or irregular state of the bowels is to have a sound health.

It is evident, that acute genital laxative, slightly stimulant to the mucous membrane of the stomach, must be a reasonable combination which to reach its case. That this combination will do, for proof of which we are happy to be able to refer those heretofore disappointed, to the most reliable physicians, who have long used these remedy in their practice; and also to the many apothecary by whom the Peruvian Lozenges have sold.

These Lozenges will repair the mischief caused by the carelessness of those "Patent Pills," with which the country has for years been flooded.

They are as agreeable to the taste, and can be taken in form, and children eat them readily after rejecting the usual nauseous remedies. In those symptoms supposed to indicate the presence of worms, they have a proper curative.

Price 25 and 50 cents. For sale by druggists, or by mail on receipt of price in P. O. stamps of money.

The Full Republican Ticket Elected.

The Citizens of Limerick take the Matter in Hand—The Democratic Subterfuge Repudiated at the Polls.

Special despatch to Wing and Courier.

HOULTON, March 25. At the annual election held in the town of Limerick to-day, Hon. Parker P. Burleigh, claimed the right to vote but the two Democratic Selectmen again objected, whereupon the citizens in town meeting elected a full Republican Board of Selectmen by an overwhelming majority, although the Democrats had held possession of the ballot-box for five or six years.

FORTY-FIFTH CONGRESS—Second Session.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 25.

Several matters were called up and disposed of, when Mr Howe called up the resolution submitted by him last week calling upon the President for information in regard to the alleged defalcation of Judge Whitaker, of Louisiana, and he addressed the Senate as follows.

Senator Howe's Speech.

Mr. Howe said during the past year we have seen here and everywhere throughout the country small but active squads of political manipulators busy with the work of uniting the Republican party, gathering into fellowship gamesters, all those who avow themselves opponents of the President's policy, and pouring ungrateful bile upon the head of him who has recently retired from it. Am I about to witness my own vindication? This is the whole of my political service policy.

The President's Policy and Object.

Until I listened to the message which the President sent to the United States upon opening this session of Congress, I was not quite sure whether he was or was not in accord with those views. He was elected by a party, party servant, as I believe, he could not hold precisely these views and do not propose to abandon them whatever may counsel such abandonment. Still something had happened since his inauguration not at all in harmony with the policies I have indicated. He had selected Senator Cabinet officers who were not Republican, but a Democrat, still the individual was so well known to me and I believed so implicitly in the moderation of his opinion, in the justness of his sentiments and integrity of his character that though I could not have advised his selection I could not and did not complain of it.

Chief Schurz as a Cabinet Officer.

He had selected one officer who although not a Democrat was yet not a Republican, who was equally at home with all parties and in all places. By turns he had been every where and had espoused and deserted every party. He spoke like an oracle and his facile speech could be fitted to the various attitudes of parties as readily as a doll's head can be turned to suit the caprices of society. His critique of his political associates always gave him place with his political opponents and he came to be called the prophet of power being without honor except where he happened to preside. Inconstant in everything else he had been constant to his trade, that of politics. He entered upon that before he was of age and has pursued it since without residence or shadow of turning.

His Former Labors.

He did it—interpreting was to revolutionize the government under which he was born. That failed and he fled. He was for a short time a lawyer in Wisconsin, but without clients. He was a Minister at Madrid, but did not reconstruct the diplomacy of the world. He was a Major General, but perverse history refused to record his victories. He was a newspaper correspondent and was unsuccessful. He was an editor in Detroit and not successful. He was transplanted into Missouri and the generous Republicans of that State bore him into the Senate. That elevation did not prove fatal to him, but his party died, not in spite of him, but because of him and under the blows which he inflicted. Having outraged one party and not yet received absolution from the other, he denounced both as machines. Having failed as a dealer in legitimate politics, he turned his attention to the contraband articles. In 1872 he helped to lead Horace Greeley and B. Gratz Brown to the Baltimore market and taught the Democracy of that year that they should call nothing common or unclean if it promised "To beat Grant." For six years he traduced the Republican party throughout more States, with more rhetoric and in more language than any man living. Upon that illustrious captain who from the 4th of July, 1863, to the 4th of March, 1877, led the Republican party, who always led his party to victory, and always lifted his country to renown, at whose approach but recently the Empire contingent stood up and uncovered, he threw more mud than any desperado ever worked by steam ever threw in the same time.

His "Last" Party.

He did not fail to learn wisdom from experience. From 1872 he found it was necessary to make the country accept his candidate, but it did not follow that he could not make the country's candidate accept him, so in 1876 he convened his disciples once more in New York. That he might be sure of good society he is said to have selected them all himself. He admitted to that Convention only "fifty cavil" so that assembly he revealed a doctrine quite new in the science of politics; that the new reformer would judge parties not by measures but by men; that platforms were "worn out claptrap"; the reformers were indifferent alike to all pla forms, but were determined to have in the Presidency "the man whose very name is not conclusive evidence of the most uncompromising determination of the American people to make this a pure government once more," and by a happy coincidence it seems the nominee of that convention discovered in this man of the committee of revision, who had triumphed in no other business, the very man to master the varied and complicated interests committed to the Interior Department. Cabinet officers are the counsel to be ministers of the President rather than of the public, and looking upon these selections as matters of taste, it was not difficult for Republicans to acquiesce in them although quite difficult to commend them. That could be said of their selection of Secretaries and their subordinates.

Something to do with political events in Louisiana.

Mr. Howe said that he would not be surprised. If that should turn out to be the fact that would not overwhelm him with astonishment. [Laughter.]

The Senate at 2:20 went into Executive session and when the doors were re-opened adjourned.

House.

Among the matters acted on was Mr. Springer's motion of last Monday to suspend the rules and pass the bill to authorize the coinage of gold and silver on the same terms and to permit the deposit thereof for the same purposes, and it was defeated yeas, 140; nays, 103; not two-thirds in the affirmative.

Mr. Goode moved to suspend the rules and pass the bill suspending for five years the operation of the sinking fund act which requires an annual payment or purchase of one per cent of the debt of the United States. Negative—yeas 128, nays 119, not two-thirds in the affirmative.

After some further business of minor importance the House adjourned.

FOREIGN NEWS.

OUTRAGE ON A BRITISH FISHERMEN.

THE PAPERS FORWARDED.

THE NEWFOUNDLANDERS' ALLEGATIONS.

OTTAWA, March 26. The Newfoundland Government has forwarded the papers relative to the alleged outrage on American fishing schooners in Fortune Bay. The Government contends that the local fishermen not only did not perpetrate any such outrage as charged; but the American's were arrested while violating the laws of the colony to which all vessels of whatever nationality while in the shore waters are amenable. The report contains the following passage: The local authorities of the Province of Newfoundland have always considered that herring shall not be seined in any of our waters or bays between the 20th of October and 25th of April, yet two of the American schooners had during that interdicted time fished between them on the 23rd of January in Long Harbor filled with herring as is admitted, to the extent of over 2,000 pounds. The reason given that there should be no herring in any cove or harbor. The American fishermen did labor under no disadvantage in any way or by any contrivance, herring, squids or caplin, between twelve Saturday night and twelve o'clock on Sunday night. The fishermen were at their work on Sunday when our people interfered. One of the two schooners stopped operations on being warned by the officer, refused to stop and the local police at once compelled him to obey the law. The Newfoundland Observer, organ of the Government, says: Our authorities have done right. We command them for their action and the colony by its Legislature will sustain them. The Americans may think that our people during the last few years, from Monday morning until Saturday night, but they will not be allowed to fish in our harbor Sunday and when six years have elapsed they will be driven back to the headland three mile limit. As we have said before they are a intolerable nuisance. Even a current year's experience and observation of the conduct of these gentlemen and they desecrate our quiet Sundays and make our streets almost impassable by their foul language. We hope the Americans will not pay the award, then we shall get clear of the treaty altogether and the sooner the better.

THE FISHERY AWARD.

Thompson's Letter to Secretary Fish.

NEW YORK, March 25th. The Herald says two letters on the Fishery Commission question have not yet been published. One was from Thornton to Fish, August 19, 1873, urging Fish to accept Delfosse as Commissioner as Lord Granville had directed him to ascertain whether Delfosse would or not be acceptable to the United States. Secretary Fish replied neither yes or no. August 31st, saying that the note addressed to the British Government concerning the names of several gentlemen who could not be objectionable to either government, had not been answered, and the habitual Episcopalian courtesy of the British Government left Mr. Fish to believe that the above proposition unanswered and also with the knowledge that the American Government would not accept a person taken on board at Bermuda as invalids.

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

A Serious State of Affairs.

LONDON, March 25. From all advices received herein it is believed in Government circles that notwithstanding the efforts of Germany to bring about an understanding between the powers, there is little hope of the Congress assembling. England will probably decline to negotiate further and the situation is serious.

YESTERDAY'S FIRE. An alarm of fire was sounded at about seven o'clock yesterday morning and the department were soon on their way down the Hammond road, the fire being located at the house of Hugh McGrath near high head. When the firemen reached the building the ell was completely enveloped in flames and the main house was in danger of going at any moment; but they went to work with a will, and although the roof of the house caught fire several times, the flames were extinguished before much damage was done. The stable which is located very near the building was also saved. The firemen labored at a great disadvantage as the water works freeze where ever it is struck, and they endangered their lives in going on to the roof of the house; but they paid no attention to this, and kept steadily at work until the flames were entirely extinguished. The fire caught around the chimney. Mr. McGrath arose in the morning and made a fire in the cook stove, and while making a fire in another stove the fire caught, about the chimney. One of his neighbors came up town and gave the alarm while he removed his wife and children, who were in bed at the time. The loss will amount to about $600; insured for $1200

Mr. Crowell's selections were all good and exceedingly well rendered. In response to the encores at the close of his first selection he gave a fine rendering of "Gavotte," by Silas. His German songs received merited applause. Mr. Crowell's selection all gave full scope to his fine rich voice. In response to the encore at close of his second piano solo he gave "Romance" by Kuhlk. In the duett with Miss Bessie Coombs the audience showed their appreciation by a hearty encore, and in response they gave "Hungarian Sketch No. 7," by Volkman. Mrs. H. H. Butler sang in her usual pleasing manner and her selections as well as her singing was in excellent keeping with the rest of the programme. Mrs. Crowell received as usual a warm reception and in response to an encore she sang "Do not forget," by Reppe. Mrs. W. F. Shaw, in a charming manner sang the "Valse Charlante" L'Albani," by Arditi and to a most flattering encore she responded with "Open the door," by Dessaw. The opening trio, and the quartette were finely rendered, and in each Mr. Shiels' fine tenor was highly spoken of. The accompaniments by Miss Coombs and Mr. "Crowell, were artistically executed. Mr. Crowell should certainly be congratulated upon the successful opening of his "popular concerts" another of which is to be given in three weeks.

PROF. HARTZ.

His Entertainment at Kenduskeag—Some Very Mysterious Tricks.

Last evening Prof. Hartz gave his first entertainment at Norombega Hall, and while quite a large audience was present, before commencing his performance he made a few remarks in which he stated that the spirits had nothing to do with his entertainment; that what he was about to perform was sleight-of-hand tricks, acquired by long and constant practice. He then produced a pack of cards with which he performed several very mysterious tricks and greatly bewildered the audience.

During the course of the entertainment he borrowed a silver dime, which the owner marked in a manner so that he could easily identify it again. He then allowed one of the audience to select a card, which he placed on a table in sight of all, and then got still another person from among the audience to write on slate in of paper and hand him one-half of the paper and retain the other. The dime was then wrapped up in the paper and held in the flame of a candle until it began to burn. The card, which had been in sight all of the time, was then returned to the person who had selected it and the dime was found inside of the card. At this time an envelope was brought from the rear of the hall and handed the Prof., who after removing several envelopes handed one, securely sealed to the gentleman who had written on the slip, and enclosed he found the identical bit of paper on which he had marked with his pencil.

He then borrowed a silk hat from a gentleman in the audience and that hat was certainly a wonder. For after removing all sorts of things such as cups, dolls, cards and table hair he brought forth a cloth which under his skillful hands soon developed into a little girl. The last trick was the Indian sox trick. A large box was placed on the stage, examined, locked and bound with a rope by a committee from the audience, after which Mr. Goodwin, who is with the Professor, seated himself on the box tailor fashion. A bag was placed over his head and securely fastened down, and then a cover placed over the whole, and in about a minute's time the man was in the box. The ropes were found all right and the locks were still fastened. The question is, how did Goodwin get into that box?

During the evening numerous presents were given away, all of them useful and some very ornamental. Prof. Hartz remains in town during the week and will give an entertainment each evening.

State Land Agent's Report.

[From the Kennebec Journal.]

We have received the annual report for the past year of the Land Agent, Hon. Edwin C. Burleigh, from which we learn that during the past year there have been conveyed to persons holding certificates as settlers on the State lands 10,454.08 acres; to Swedish immigrants 1,968 59 acres; for cash 252.36 acres; and under the olves of the legislature 1,624.73 acres. There still remain certificates outstanding in cases where the parties are at work performing their settling duties, covering 112,803 acres, of which 8,565 acres were certificated during the past year, besides 3,104 96 acres conditionally conveyed to actual settlers in Perham plantation.

There still remain unsold and uncertificated 19,667 acres, some part of which is understood to be taken up and not yet reported to the office, but the larger part of which is of a character not properly adapted to the purpose of settlement.

Under the acts of the legislatures of 1876 and 1877, seventy-seven islands lying on the coast along the coast of Maine, were sold during the past year. Several remain which were withheld from sale on account of the uncertainty of title.

The Swedish colony formed by immigrants from Sweden, and settled principally in the plantation of New Sweden and its neighborhood, continues to thrive, and bids fair to become permanent. They are a very industrious, temperate and well disposed people, and a very useful and valuable addition to our population. Having become acclimated to their new homes, they seem happy and contented, and their efforts are being abundantly repaid by the results of a rich harvest and other favorable effects. Their crops have been good and satisfactory, and they may be justly regarded as fortunate in the experiment they have made in exchanging a home in a foreign land for one among us.

The Land Agent has repeatedly called attention to the plans and records of the Land Office, including those received by donations from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. The report says: "Under the automatic of the resolve of 1874, chapter 280, during the past year these plans have all been carefully compiled, repaired and arranged, and then bound in a very convenient form for future use and reference, in log seventeen large volumes. Careful indexes of each volume, and a general index of the whole have been made, so as to enable the examiner at a moment's call to find any one of the hundreds of maps thus collected. The records made by either the State of Maine or the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, have, so far as possible, been arranged and filed, together with field notes & surveys. The immense importance of these archives, thus arranged and preserved, can not be estimated. Their value is above all price, and they will furnish an never ceasing source of information and interest to every land holder and citizen of our State who is interested in his title or title."

The amount of cash paid into the State Treasury during the past year is fifteen thousand three hundred four dollars seventy-four cents:

On account of permanent school fund, $8,000 52
On general account, 6,800 48
On account of reserved lands, 503 75
$15,304 74

The report has the usual valuable tables and schedules.

It is fortunate for the State that this department is to remain in the hands of Mr. Burleigh, and we trust it is may be so until the transferal of its affairs to some other department. He is thoroughly conversant with its affairs, being personally familiar with its complicated duties, and can discharge them better than any other man. He is, besides, pleasant to transact business with such an intelligent, courteous and accommodating gentleman.

ARRIVALS.

Brig J W Hunt (of Richland), Hunt, Cienfuegos, 21st inst, with molasses to master. Left Jan 7, and doubtless experienced the hurricane of Jan 11, that was so severely felt on the coast. On the 4th of January a boy named Peter the deckpump of the J W Hunt was passed by a New York pilot boat, in the southward of the South Shoal of Nantucket, reading as nearly that her name could not be ascertained. It is not impossible that the boy may yet be heard from, as there are frequently rescued from wrecks and taken long distances before they can communicate with their friends. There was but little inducement on the passage.

Sour Dodgers (of Rock and), from Richmond, Va., with coal, Sears, &c., was ashore March 19, 5 miles south of Georgetown, S. C. The chances for getting her afloat were decidedly unfavorable.

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

The veteran Magazine, which long ago outgrew its original title of the New Monthly, has just begun its fifty-first volume. Its popularity it won at the outset, and has added to it in many ways, and has kept fairly abreast of the times, thanks to the intelligence of its readers and the tact and wisdom of its editors. For whatever is best and most readable in the literature of the day, and in illustration, it so amply abler of to-day looks to Harper's Magazine, just as exponentially as did the yonder of a quarter of a century ago. Hence is the same attractive variety of contents and the same freshness and progressiveness in its editorial department now as then.—Boston Journal.
